Head Coach - Isaac Wood (2nd year)
 Assistant Coaches -Kelsey Gilbert Aiden Carlson, Tom Gruenewald
 Athletic Director- Kevin Dustin

Head Coach Isaac Wood

Isaac Wood is in his second season as the head coach of the SLCC Men's-and-Women's Cross Country programs. Wood, who is a well-known figure in the vaunted Utah running community, came to Salt Lake after serving for five years as part of the nationally competitive program at BYU.

In his first year in the program, Wood took the program to incredible heights guiding the women's cross country team to a 3rd place podium finish in their first year as a program, along with a solid 8th place finish from the men's team at the NJCAA Cross Country Championships.

During that first year of the program's existence, Wood aided well 10+ athletes to NJCAA All-American citations in Cross Country, Indoor Track and Outdoor Track. Three athletes finished 5th place at the NJCAA Indoor or Outdoor Championships in their respective events—Molly Jensen 5th in the Indoor 5000m, Aidan Nielsen in the 3k Steeplechase Outdoors and Kennedy Swain in the 3k Steeplechase as well. Molly Jensen and Grace Tipton both finished All-American in the 3k Steeplechase as well, finishing 7th and 8th, respectively. Molly also finished 7th in the 5000m.

A native of Utah, Wood has grown up around the Track-and-Field community, with his father having served as both an agent representing Olympic runners and as a leader in the USATF. Wood then built his coaching career among some of the nation's best collegiate programs, having begun as a team manager with BYU from 2007-13.

He served as the BYU Track-and-Field Director of Operations from 2016-2020. While at BYU, the Men's and Women's Cross Country teams rose to a level of national powerhouses. Men's Cross Country team finishes while at BYU- 7th, 3rd, 2nd, 1st(National Championship in 2019). Women's Cross Country team finishes at BYU- 11th, 7th, 10th, 2nd. The Track and Field teams were always among the top schools in the NCAA for most qualifiers to the NCAA 1st round and Clayton Young won the NCAA 10k in 2019, while Isaac was on the staff.

Besides coaching experience, Wood also bring leadership experience to SLCC. He served as a member of the NCAA Cross Country Executive Committee from 2014-16. Wood is also the Executive Director of the Run Elite Program, Utah's first professional running organization and coaches many of the best professional runners in the state of Utah.

Wood and his wife, Elise, are parents to a son, Beckett.

Assistant Coach Aiden Carlson

Hailing from San Antonio, Texas, Coach Aiden Carlson was a very successful athlete who posted track times of 14:59 in the 5k, 9:17 in the 3200m, and 4:15 in the mile. He began his collegiate running journey at Brigham Young University, working closely with Head Coach Isaac Wood for two years. Seeking new horizons, Coach Carlson transferred to Arizona State University and later finished his athletic and collegiate career at Portland State, graduating with a bachelor's degree in Exercise Science.

With a strong academic background in kinesiology, Coach Carlson brings a wealth of knowledge to the team, particularly in the realm of strength and conditioning, and program design. Their expertise will play a pivotal role in elevating our athletes' performance and overall physical well-being.

Growing up in a family rooted in expertise and service, Coach Carlson draws inspiration from his father, a physician and colonel in the Army, as well as his mother, a devoted parent with a background in family therapy. These values of commitment, patience, and leadership are at the core of his coaching philosophy.

Coach Carlson is excited to contribute their expertise and passion to the Salt Lake Community College athletics family. Their commitment to fostering a positive and empowering environment aligns perfectly with the program's goals, and their presence promises to inspire our athletes to reach new heights both in their athletic endeavors and personal growth.
